"For I can not be part of the cocktail generation . . . Everyone must dance. I'm bowing out, I need a second chance," sings Don McLean in "Castles in the Air." But Patriots aren't bowing out. They're actively seeking a new spirit, a new chance.

Despite the confusion about the busing of students, the inconvenience of cool classrooms because of the gas shortage, the lack of lockers, the postponement of the opening of the new industrial art classrooms, and the overcrowded classes, Pats approached problems positively.

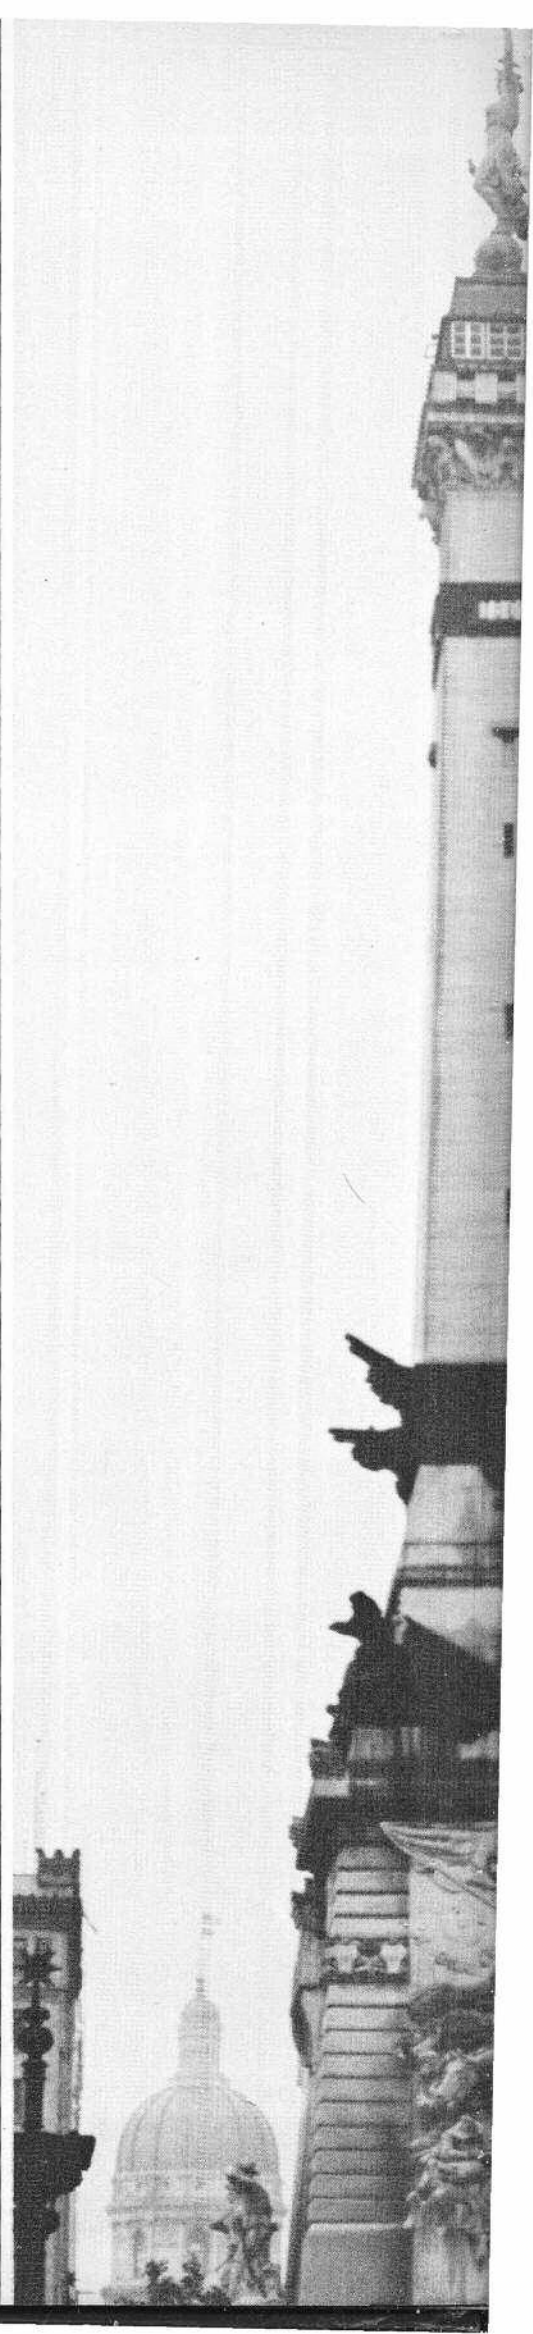

Patriots talked about the Riggs-King match of the sexes, Watergate, Nixon and the tape battle, Agnew's resignation, the Mid-East War, the fuel shortage and Judge Hugh S. Dillon. Nostalgia was reflected in the films like "American Graffiti", "Dillinger", "Paper Moon" and "No, No, Nanette". Life at home and school was sometimes frustrating; yet, Patriots keep trying to find their "Castles in the Air".

Downtown Hilton hosts '73 Eclipse

The Hilton Hotel was the scene of the 1973 Junior-Senior Prom, "Eclipse". Classmates voted for Queen Debbie Lewis; Debbie's court was selected in the same manner as Debbie. The court consisted of Ann Dugan, Pam Hadley, Liz Ebert, and Beth Curran. The couples danced from nine to midnight.

Homecoming

largest in history

The largest crowd, ever, attended the 1973 Homecoming events. The float contest had the most contestants in recent years and was won for the third time in a row by the Class of '74. After some confusion, Vicki Johnson was crowned homecoming queen; her court included Becky Haywood, Connie Coapstick, Alice Forte, and Terri Shepard. The Aerospace Class' contribution for Homecoming was rather unique. A plane was flown over the football stadium and small keychains were dropped from the plane to the football field.

Cuffed pants and midriffs set the trend for '73-'74

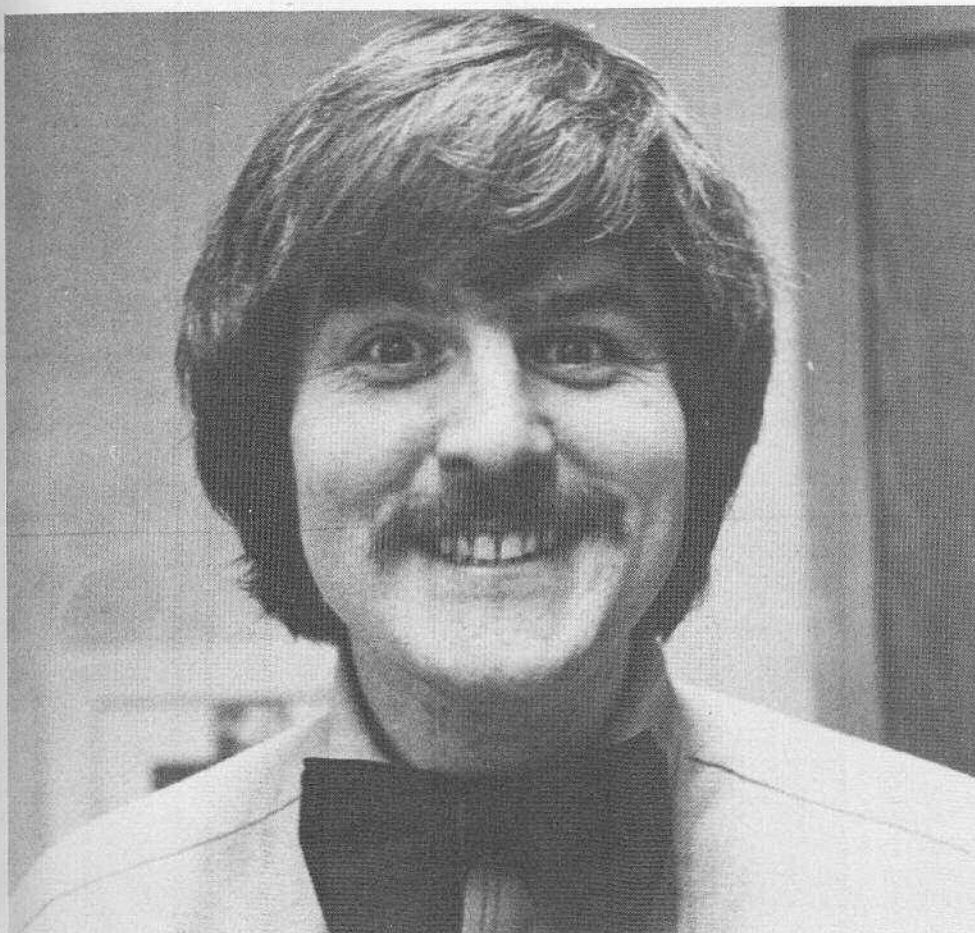

Fashions this year were anything you wanted them to be. Anywhere from bowties and midriffs for guys to trousers for gals. Cornrows were also a hit. Blue jeans seemed to take the scene touched up with a flannel shirt. Cuffed pants for guys and gals appeared to be popular.

Patriettes and Majorettes start practice early in August by practicing drills and formations that were performed with the Marching Band which started practice later in the month.

The Varsity Football Squad started their practice early in August. They practiced many long hours to perfect plays for the first game of the season. The cheerleaders also began their practice in August with many long and tire-some hours of work to perfect cheers.

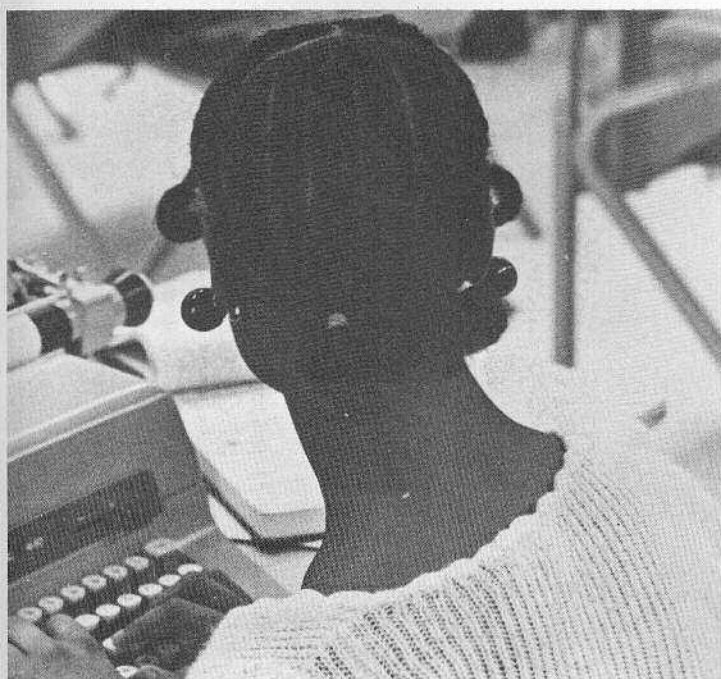

Another activity was summer classes, which ran Monday thru Friday.

Convicts portray perfect gents in all-school play

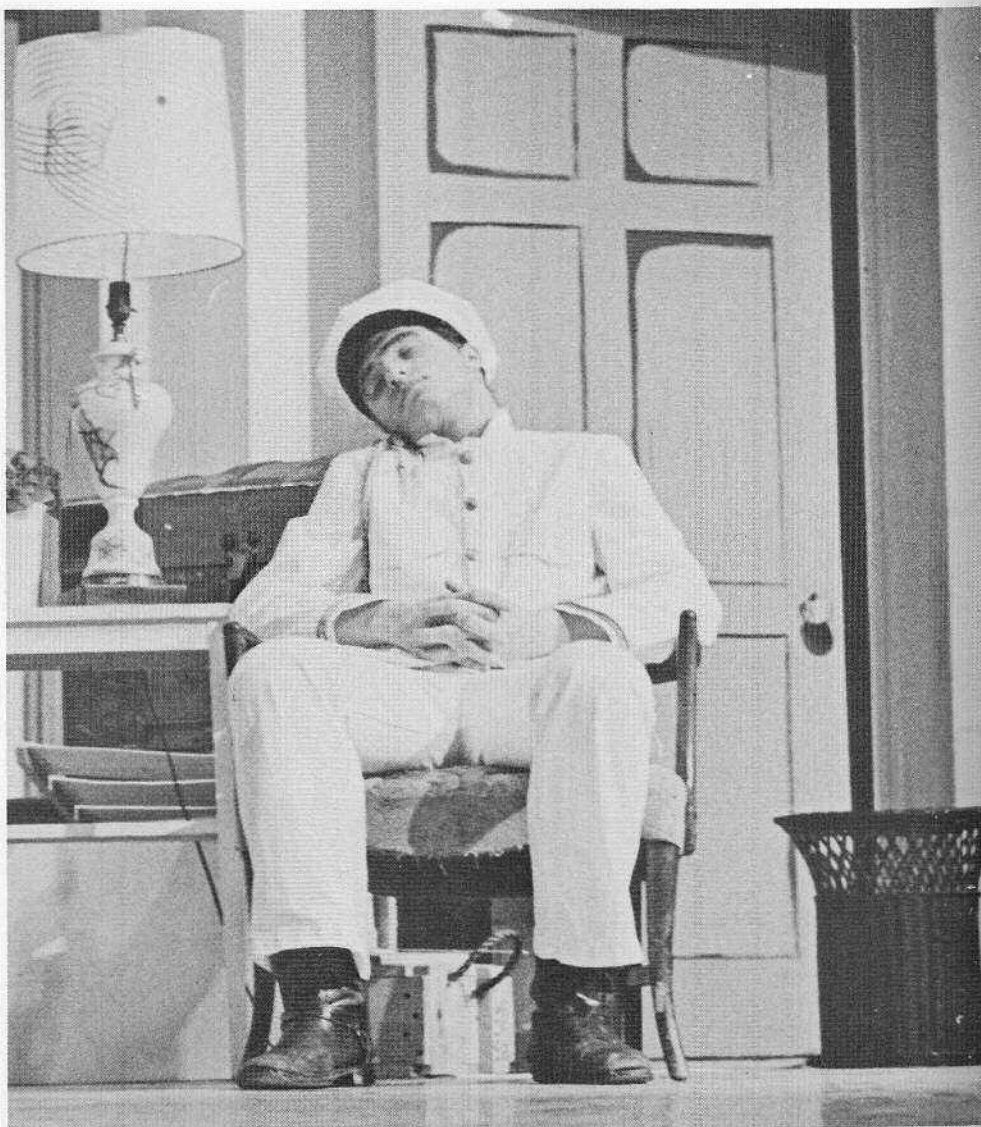

"My Three Angels" by Sam and Bella Spewack was the title of this year's all-school play.

"My Three Angels" is a story about a young couple in love and three convicts who work for them. Besides stealing for them, they also cooked and kept house. They acted like "perfect" gentlemen, though two of them were murderers and one, a thief.

The scene was set in the family Ducotel's living room in back of a general store in French Guiana.

Directors of the play were Mr. Jerry Hurst and Laurei Ziesmer and Beth Ely. Mr. Paul Justice and senior Bob Shinkle directed the stage crew.

Sand, Sun and Rain

In the beginning there was
 Sand and Sun and Rain
 And from them grew
 the beauty of the world.
 Then man appeared
 and given strength,
 he shaped the clay
 around him.
 He made dwellings; he made clothing;
 he made life and strife
 and love
 and as he grew,
 He became demanding,
 lazy and worthless.
 And he tore down that which had been created all that he made
 Now all that is left is Sand, and
 Sun, and Rain.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

French and Spanish classes emphasize audio-visual aids in Language Dept.

'I just don't understand those "er" and "ar" verbs in Spanish!'

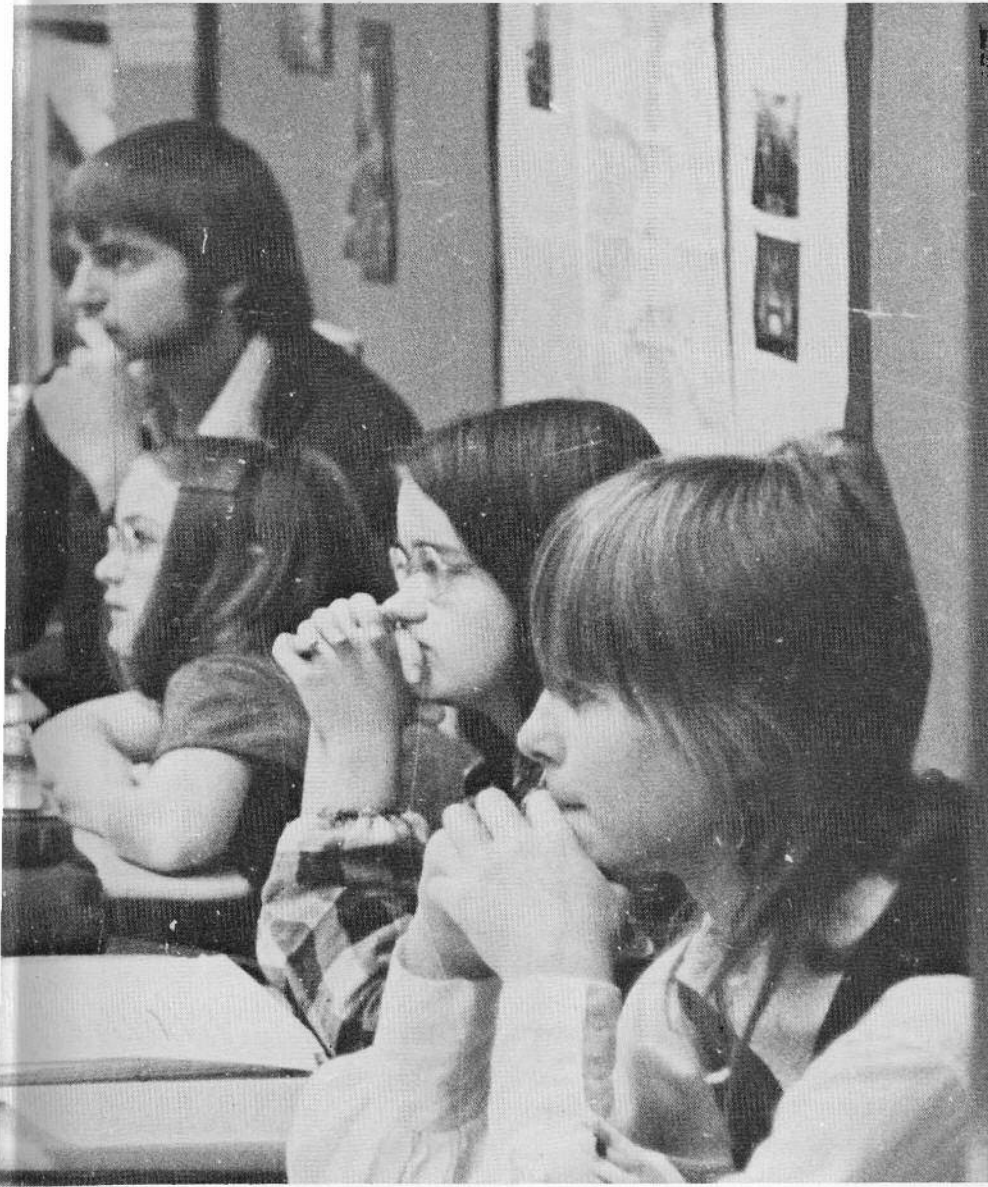

German students experimented this year with phase electives. Classes were offered to German students who had completed six semesters of the language. A variety of subjects included German History, German Novelle, which dealt with realism in literature in the 19th century and Advanced Composition, a development of grammatical and technical writing. Future hopes include a team teaching program in which Mr. Robert 'Doc' Weaver and Mr. Brice Tresler would teach a German-Science class to study German Scientific accomplishments.

French and Spanish classes emphasized the foreign language laboratory this year. The purpose of the lab was to develop speaking techniques in the various languages offered. As a result, the student was able to learn at his own pace. New teachers included Ms. Ruth Nelson, the new department chairman and Ms. Mary Jane Freeland who taught Spanish.

BUSINESS

The enrollment in this year's Business Department was up over 300 students. The pupils had a choice of several classes ranging from Typing I to Advanced Accounting.

The addition of electronic display calculators, electronic printing calculators and a room from the new wing gave the populated department more room and equipment per-person.

Four new teachers were hired to teach in the Business Department—Ms. Mary Cole, Ms. Marilyn Davidson, Ms. Jane Moss, and Mr. Robert Hinds.

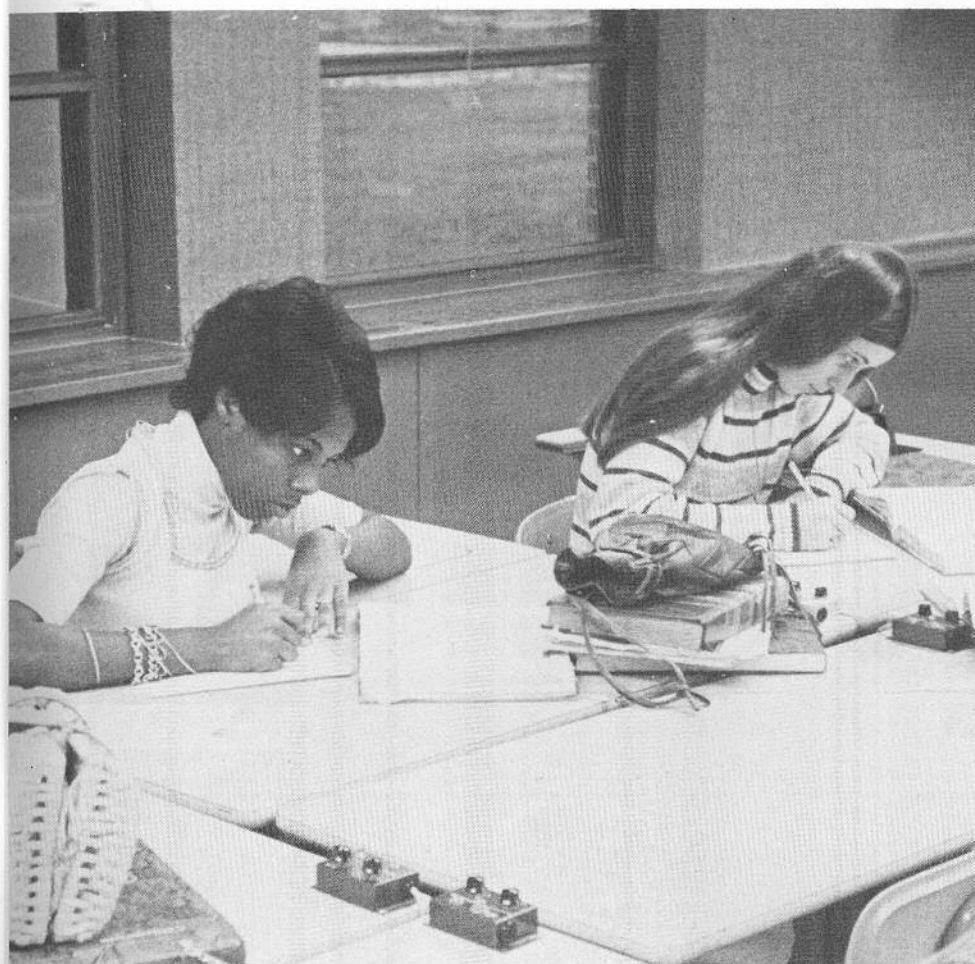

The Business Department also supplies the school switchboard operator and assists in the printing of tickets for Marshall activities.

Ms. Janet Weaver, department head, wishes that the students could go on more field trips, but as of now only a few trips occur.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

A new wing was added to the Industrial Arts Department this year. A resourceful part of the addition was the Career Education Conference Room. This was helpful to any student who might have had some problems with one of his projects. There, he had a chance to look at slides or listen to tapes which would have explained the problem to the student.

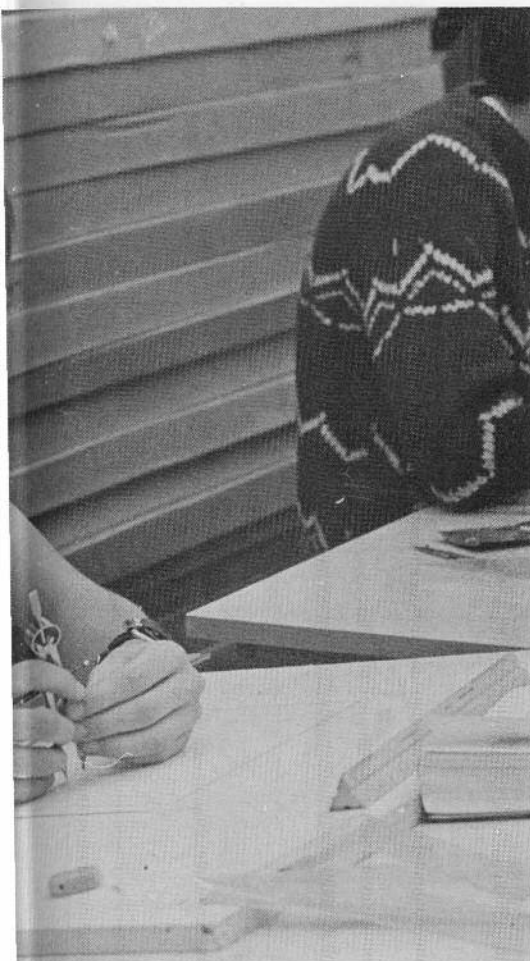

"The industrial arts courses are open to all girls," added Mr. Clifton Scott. He felt that girls made good competition for the guys.

There was a course open to freshmen called Introduction to Industry. They spent four weeks in each area of industrial arts so that they were able to become better acquainted with the courses.

The graphic arts printers were responsible for printing sports programs, tickets to school events and many other materials.

MUSIC

Freshmen chorus classes recorded on closed circuit T.V. during first semester

Students interested in studying music in depth could enroll in Music Theory or Music History classes. Music Theory dealt with the structure of music such as the composition of chords. Music History studied composers and their music in relationship to historical periods.

First year students interested in music were placed in C Band or Boys and Girls Freshmen Chorus. Both chorus classes did a video tape project for closed circuit T.V.

ROTC, NIGHT SCHOOL

ROTC offers chance for student to plan his future

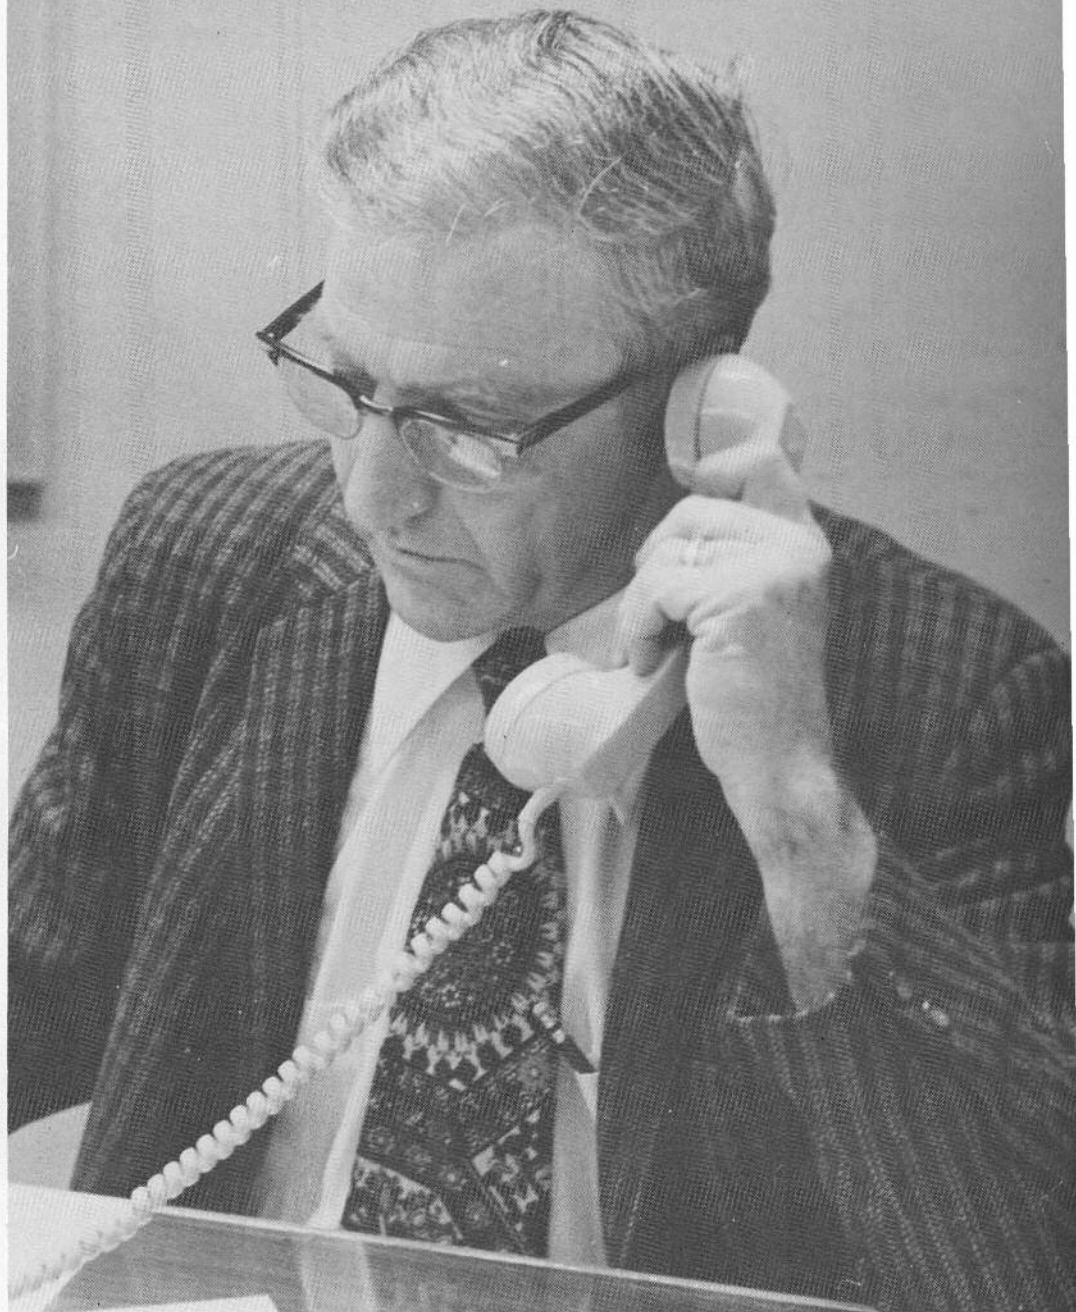

*'I like Night School

my high school education and keep a

Until this year, girls did not have much to do with ROTC. It used to be that girls did not get credit for the class. They never had ROTC uniforms but they will have next September. The boys and girls take the same course except girls do not have to fire a rifle. ROTC benefits both boys and girls in military experience.

The Evening School program has most of the same courses as day school. The University extension offered Graduate classes from IUPUI and Ball State. Pre-high school courses are for persons who have not yet finished high school. Personnel courses are actually saleable skill courses. Many students prefer Evening School because it is not so crowded and students may take only one course.

SPORTS

The Longest Tackle

I chased him from their twenty
And past their thirty-nine,
I almost had him down
At the fifty-yard line.

But he kept on running
As if it were a race
And I was close behind
Keeping a steady pace.

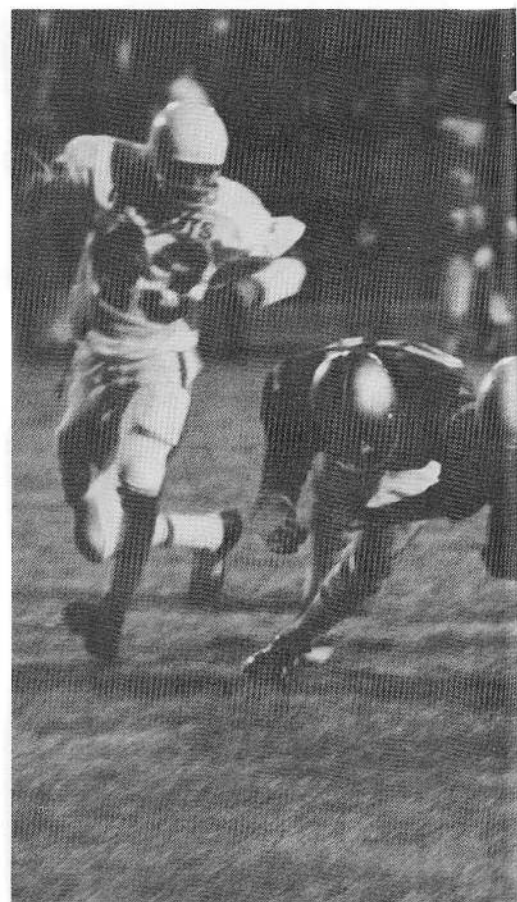

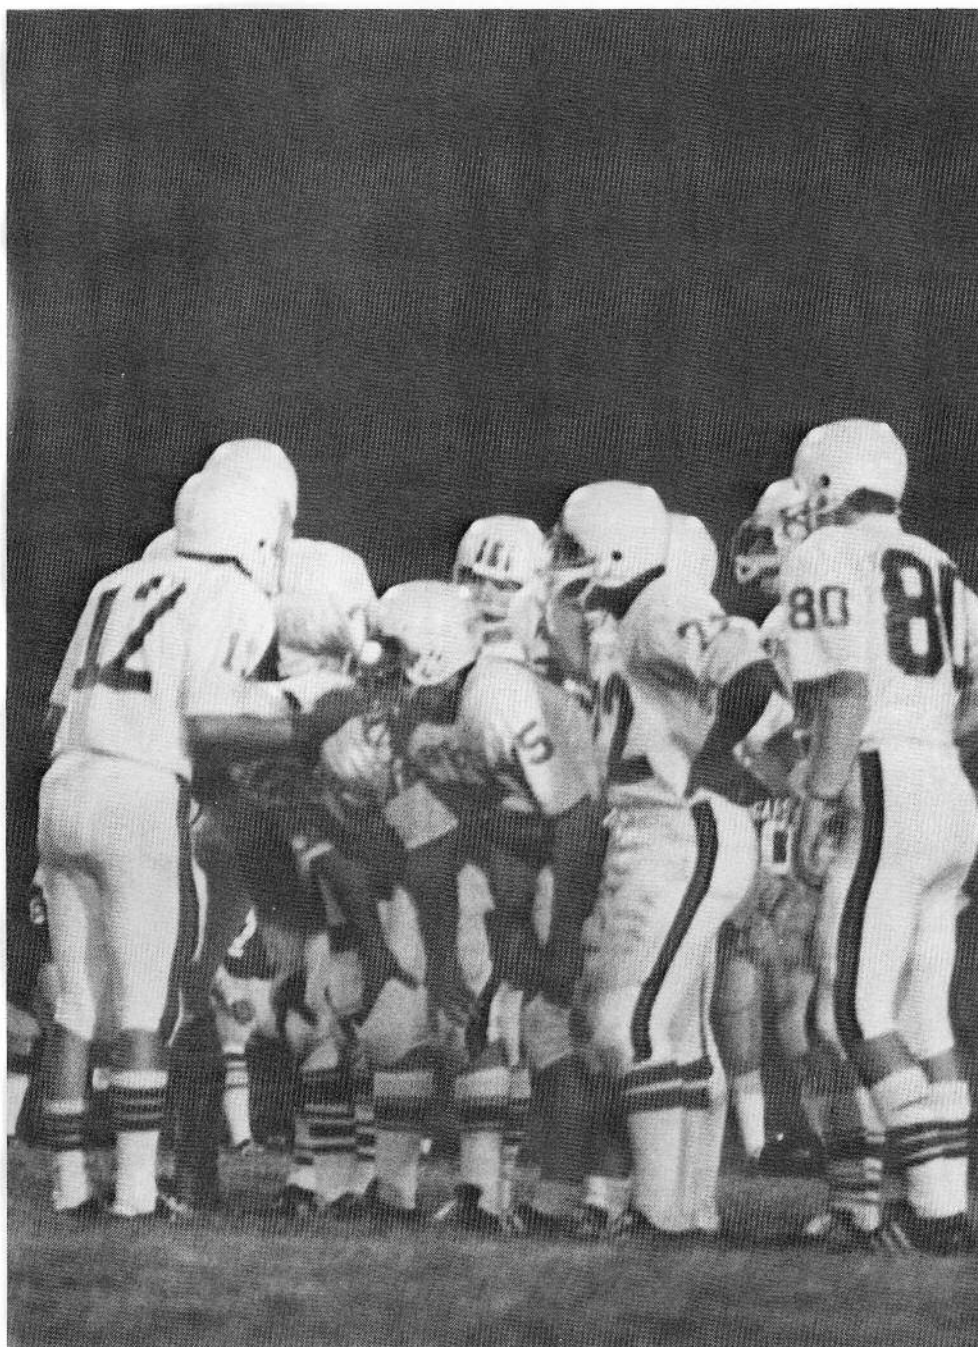

He dashed by our thirty
And over our twenty-two,
I had to think of something,
Something that I could do.

So when we reached the ten
I decided then to act,
I jumped into the air
And landed on his back.

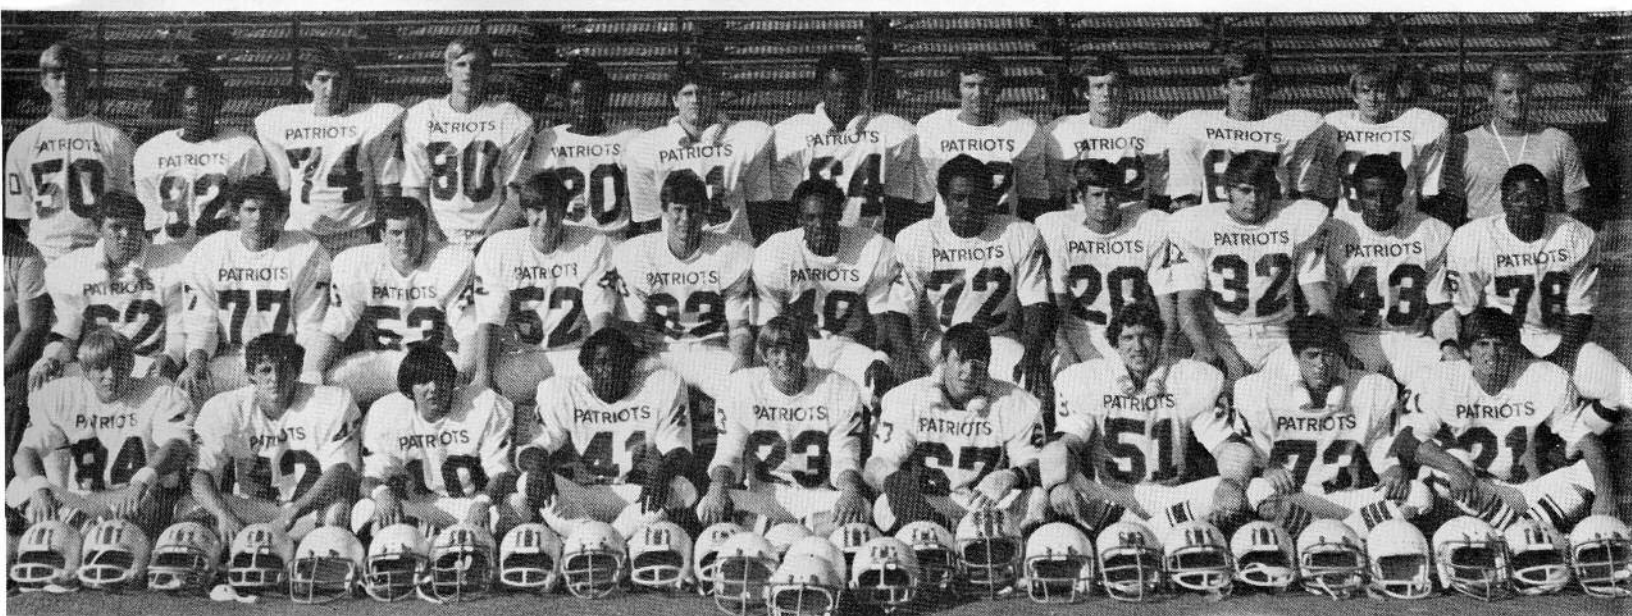

I thought I had him finished,
I thought I had him done,
But he raced on the past the five,
The four, three, two, one.

—Now I sit on a bleacher
I sit all alone;
'Cause I'm just a spectator
In the endzone.—

Varsity squad sets three school records

The 1973 season proved to be a good year for putting new statistics in the record book for the Varsity Football Team. The team set three new school records, most yards rushing in one season, most points scored in one season, and most touchdowns in one season.

Marshall played a rough schedule bowing to A.A. Champs Greenfield, and to Howe. The Pats claimed a five win—five loss record.

Senior Terry Hochgesang was co-captain, member of the All-City Offensive Team, holder of eleven records, and second in the city in scoring. Rick Harris was voted on the All-City Defensive Team, and holds five school records.

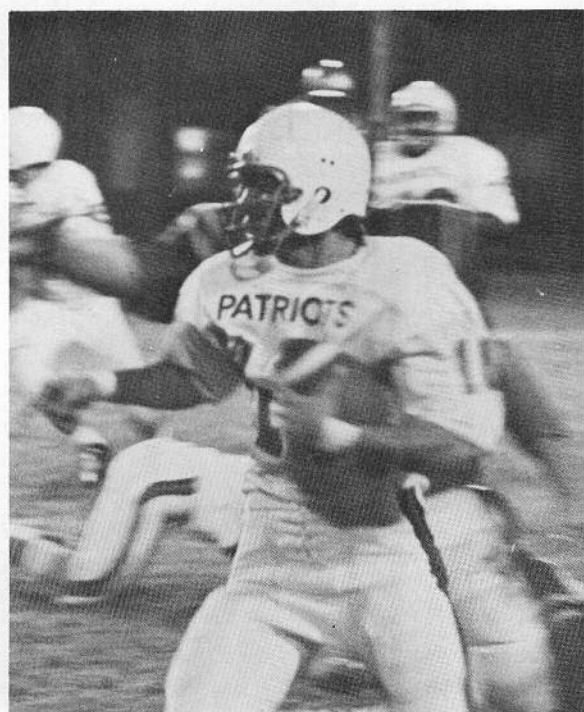

Seniors that will be leaving the team are Steve Sokolek, Ed Ratcliffe, Kevin Williams, Rick Tichenor, Dan Ulenhake, Terry Hochgesang, Mark Stevens, Duane Christmon, Bill Boyer, and Rick Harris.

J.V. bow to three top-rate city teams

John Marshall's Junior Varsity football team ended their season with a 6-3 record, losing only to top rated Chatard, second rated Howe and Lawrence Central.

Varsity squad retains spoiler reputation

Marshall closed out its regular season with three straight victories. Marshall was plagued by injuries. Senior Steve Sokolek sat out several games with an injured foot. Senior Arnold Freeman rode the bench with an injured wrist and Senior Dave Galaspie injured his leg. Still, when strong, they upset state-ranked teams such as North Central and Broad Ripple.

The squad was led in several categories by Senior Howard Bowling. Bowling and Sokolek set three school records apiece. Sokolek set a sectional rebounding record of 20 and Bowling set a career record of 691 rebounds. Senior Mark Campbell and Bowling led the team in thefts while Senior Tom Brown and Glaspie handed out the most assists. Bowling was the top scorer averaging 17.6 points.

The Junior Varsity Basketball team ran up a 6-14 record. Juniors Kent Lee and Nelson Badelle lead the assault with 175 and 128 points, respectively, for the season. The Pats dropped five of their first six games, but came back to take three out of the next six games. Junior Dave Simmons played on J.V. and saw limited actions as a varsity player.

Varsity wrestlers in tournament play

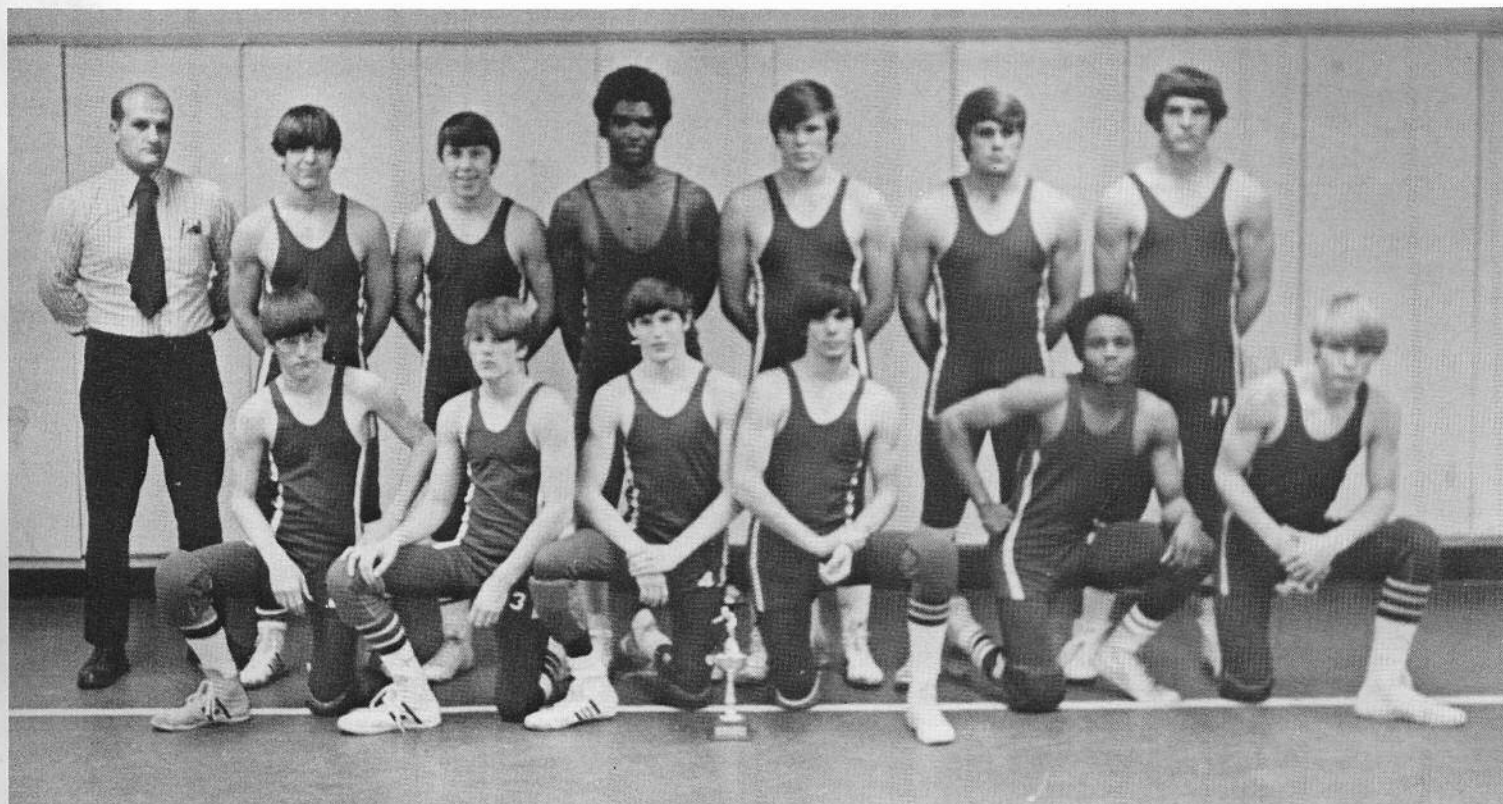

Marshall's Varsity dual meet record wasn't impressive this year but they were outstanding in all of their tournaments, as they placed second in the city, third in the Washington Invitational, third in the sectionals and first in the Anderson Invitational under the Varsity's first-year-coach—Richard Cummings. Mr. Cummings said, "The seniors did an outstanding job this year, with 5 seniors winning 14 individual championships. One problem with our J.V. this year was our small turnout of sophomores, so many freshmen wrestled on the J.V. Level." Mr. Cummings is looking forward to next year's team. He said there will be a good nucleus of seniors.

All seniors had winning records, with John Dunn having a 18-1 record finishing first in four tournaments, and Rocky Clements finishing with a 12-4 season record. Other seniors contributing to the team were Jerry Kuhn, Mark Stevens, and Lawrence Johnson. Junior Paul Holden finished 13-4 and won first in the city.

Shannon, Rogers place in city meet

The Junior Varsity grapplers finished the season with a 3-6-1 record and with an undefeated 185 pounder and a fourth place City Heavyweight. The 185 pounder is junior Phill Shannon. Shannon won the J.V. city and finished the season 10-0. The fourth place grappler is junior Albert Rogers.

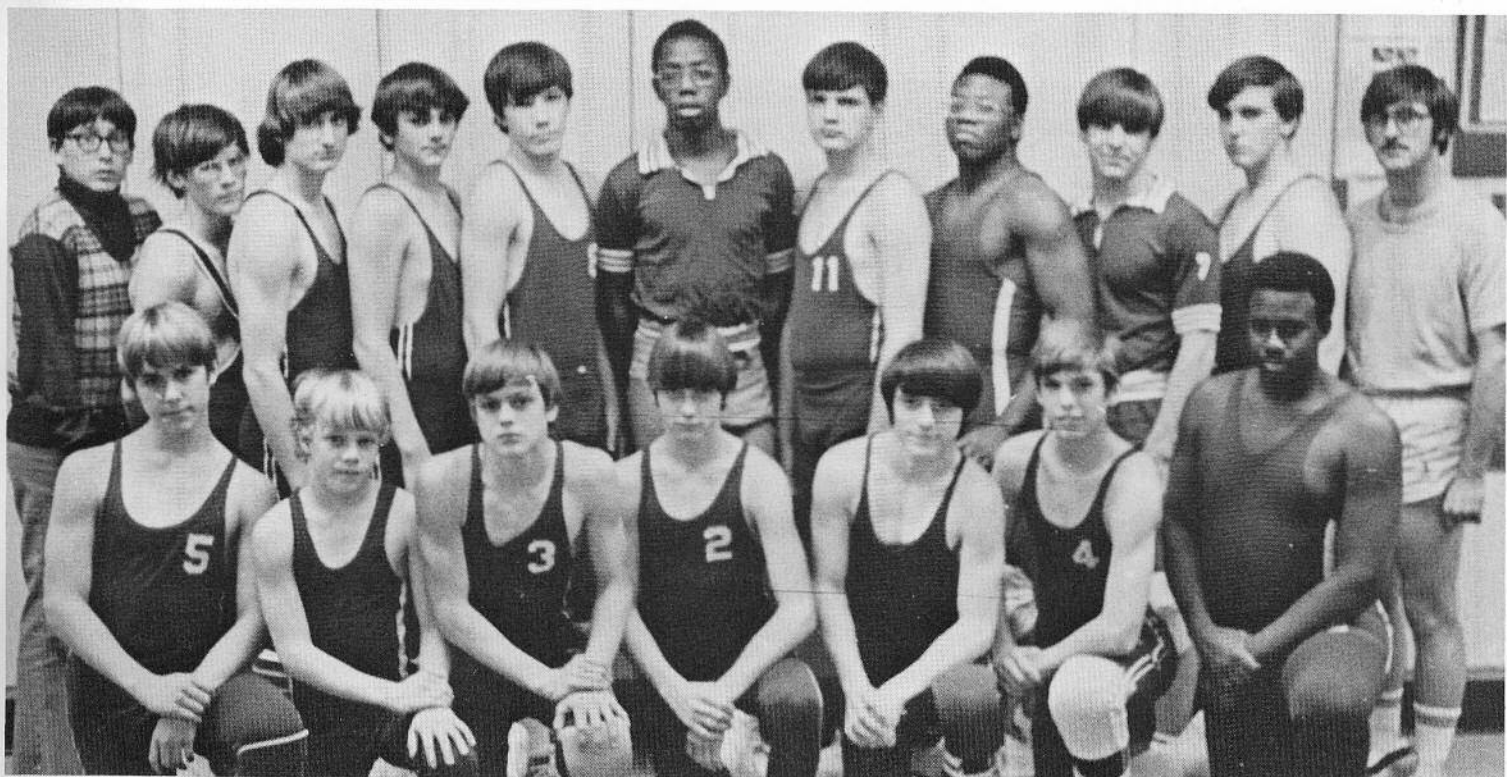

With only three wrestlers, two juniors and one sophomore the J.V. team relied mostly on the freshman squad for 10 of the 13 spots needed. Coach Mike Slabaugh commented that he was very pleased with what we had and is looking forward to next year's freshman class coming out.

Something new was added to the mats this year. It was the Matmaids, a group of dedicated girls who thought the wrestlers needed cheering. The Matmaids were coached by Ms. Karen Paxson. Members were C. Newell, S. Bedwell, L. Faulkner, J. Piatt, T. Price, B. Smith, A. Huston, C. Bishop, T. Lindsey, T. Stuttle, L. Jacobson, T. Rowe, S. Holden, D. Powell, L. Emrick, D. J. Johnson.

Basketball girls 6 win, 6 loss record deceiving

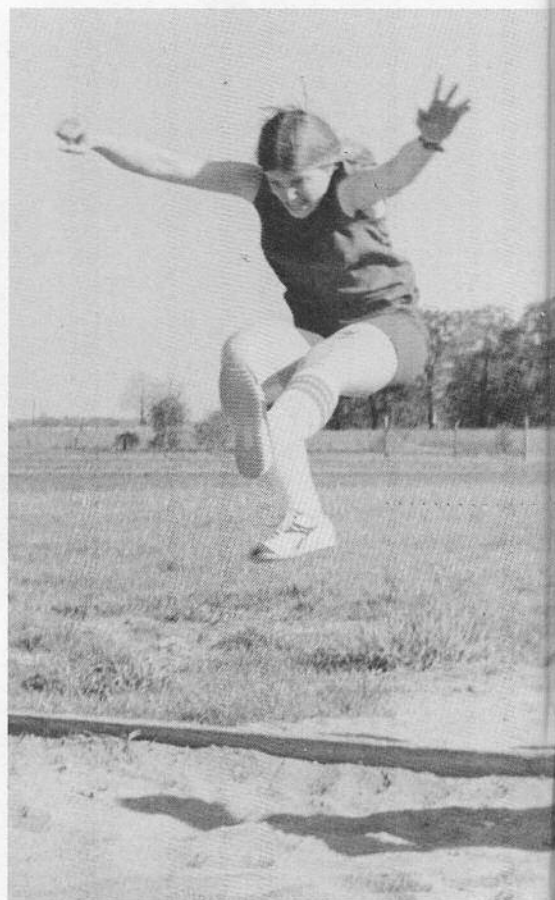

The girls' Varsity Basketball Team ended their season with a six win, six loss record. Coach Ms. Shirley Lambert said, "Our won-lost record this year was not what we might like it to have been if a successful season is measured totally by a won-lost record." Marshall's team defeated Greenfield Central in the first game of the tourney, but reluctantly bowed to Franklin Central in the second game.

Girl's Junior Varsity Volleyball team had a good win-loss record, ending their season with a ten won, two loss record. The Varsity Volleyball Team was undefeated during the season. After winning the sectional, they were defeated in the third match of the regionals by Bloomington South.

Track team third in all-city meet

The girls' track team compiled a 4-2 record, and went on to become third in the city. The team was coached by Ms. Martha Griffin.

Diane Christiansen was the most successful this year. Diane competed in four events, the high jump, the standing long jump, the running long jump, and the high hurdles. In the city meet she placed in all of her events except the running long jump.

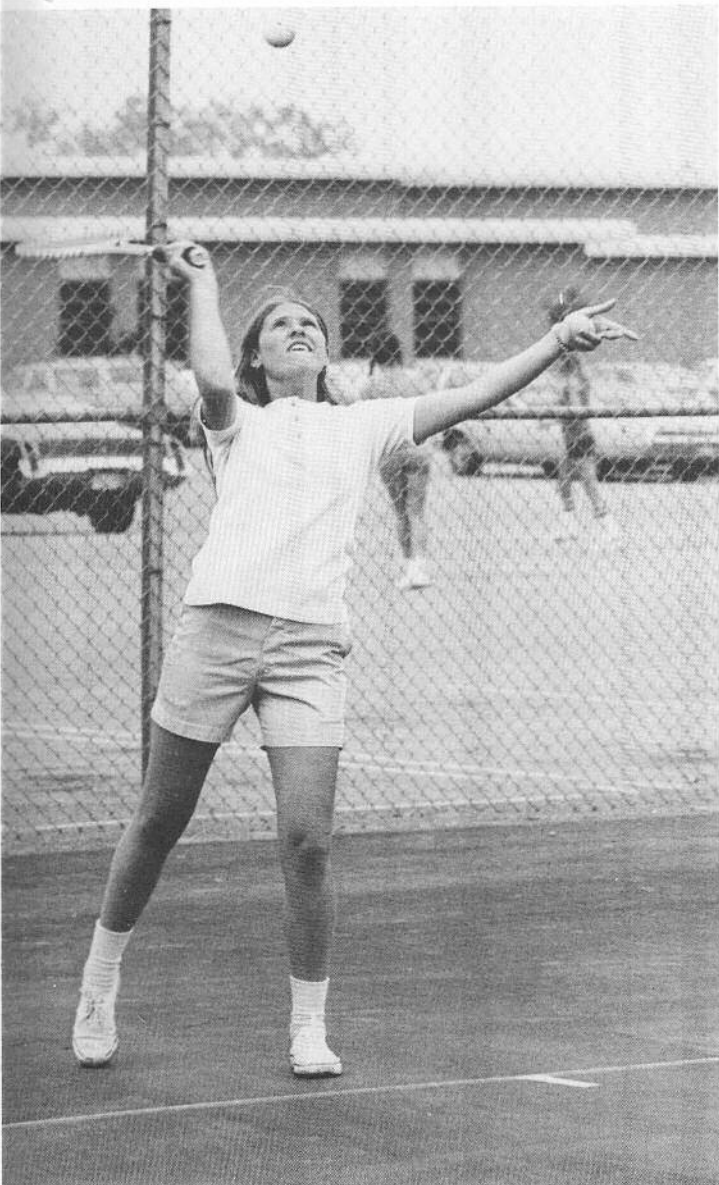

Coach Griffin feels next year's team will be stronger because she expects many freshmen to go out for the team.

The first girls' tennis team at Marshall proved to be successful with a 2-6-1 record. The coach, Ms. Karen Mannweiler, said, "It was great that we were able to participate and successfully compete the season. I was quite pleased with the results."

Ms. Shirley Lambert coached the J.V. Volleyball team to a 10-2 season.

Ms. Lambert claims it takes a total team effort to win at volleyball, and six girls to make a good team.

MY LIFE

My life is nothing but what I make it,
 And though I know sometimes
 I fake it,
 Lost between what's right and wrong
 Listening to a sad old song,
 Which seems to express the feelings
 I hold,
 Shaping my mind into a plastic mold
 If I could only predict or see
 What is going to happen to me?
 Will I be satisfied with myself
 Or will I just be like someone else?
 Just sitting and watching the world go by,
 Until it is my time to die,
 I hope to hell that isn't it.
 I'll keep on searching, I'll never quit,
 I'll keep on looking until I find,
 My goals, my dreams, some peace of mind.

Choirs sing for school and the public

After a student enrolls in Chorus Class, Choir director, Mr. Gayle Byers may choose the student to become a member of the Marshallaires, Concert Choir or the Girl's Ensemble. The groups combined to cut a Christmas record to raise money. In addition to singing at school, the singers performed at the Monument Circle and other public places.

Added to the wardrobe of the Marshallaires, the girls wore blue blouses and white skirts while the boys wore red shirts and white pants.

In January members competed in city and state competition. This was at Butler University where five solos and ensembles represented Marshall.

Liberator produces updated news

With a budget of $180 per two weeks and a staff of 36 students, the Liberator became an award winning newspaper.

The staff members were assisted by advisor Ms. Janet Eberle, and Co-editors Ray Kane and Kathy Whyde.

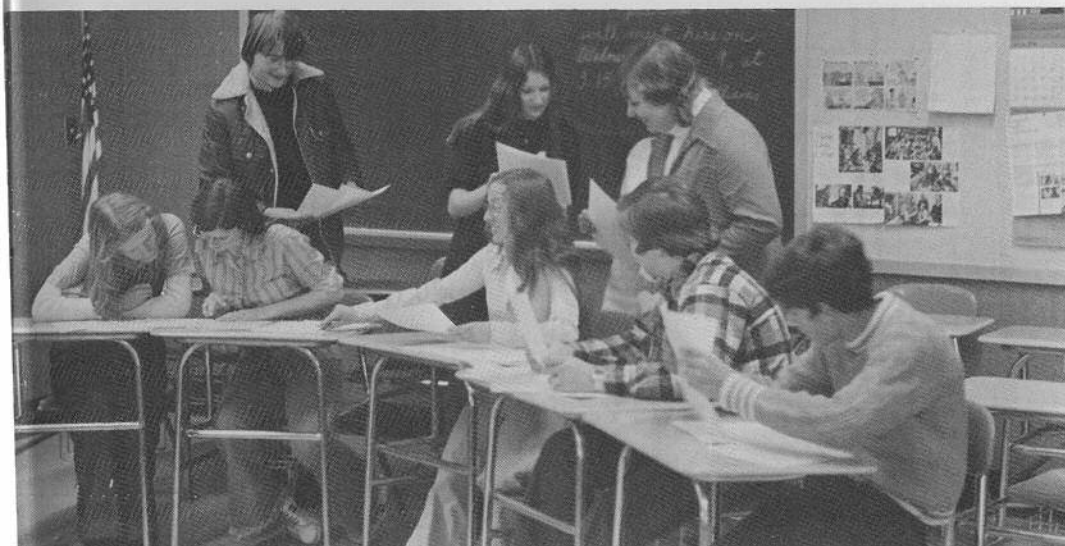

Reporters on the News Bureau staff wrote and submitted articles to Indianapolis papers.

Original works by students were submitted by teachers to the Just Us staff. After hours of proof reading the staff published the best works in a paper back form in the title of Just Us.

Marshall's Chapter of Quill and Scroll is an honorary society for members of both the Liberator and Marhiscan staffs.

Marhiscan tells story of one year

The production of the yearbook involved hours of writing copy, taking pictures, and meeting deadlines set four weeks apart.

The 1973-1974 issue of the Marhiscan had no set style. Each section was designed by the individual editors. Assisted by Ms. Janet Eberle, Editor Jay Wilkerson and Assistant Ene Ruusma, the staff members worked to compile a year of Marshall's history in one book. Other section editors were Suzanne Messersmith and Phyllis Morgan.

In the fall the publications staff sponsored the annual Patriots on Parade and in the spring, the Turnabout Dance. The proceeds from the show and the dance will be used to improve future newspapers and yearbooks.

IMC students help is a real necessity

Students enrolled in Library Experience assisted Ms. Virginia McDonald and the other librarians in the IMC. This involved working in the listening and viewing room with filmstrips, checking out materials with Ms. Collier, helping in processing new books such as stamping and lettering the spine, and keeping the shelves in order.

"Through such activities and contributions, these students enable the IMC to function. Without such help, the IMC could not effectively serve the students and faculty," stated Ms. Rebecca Johnson, the assistant director.

Cheerleaders, Patriettes uphold school spirit

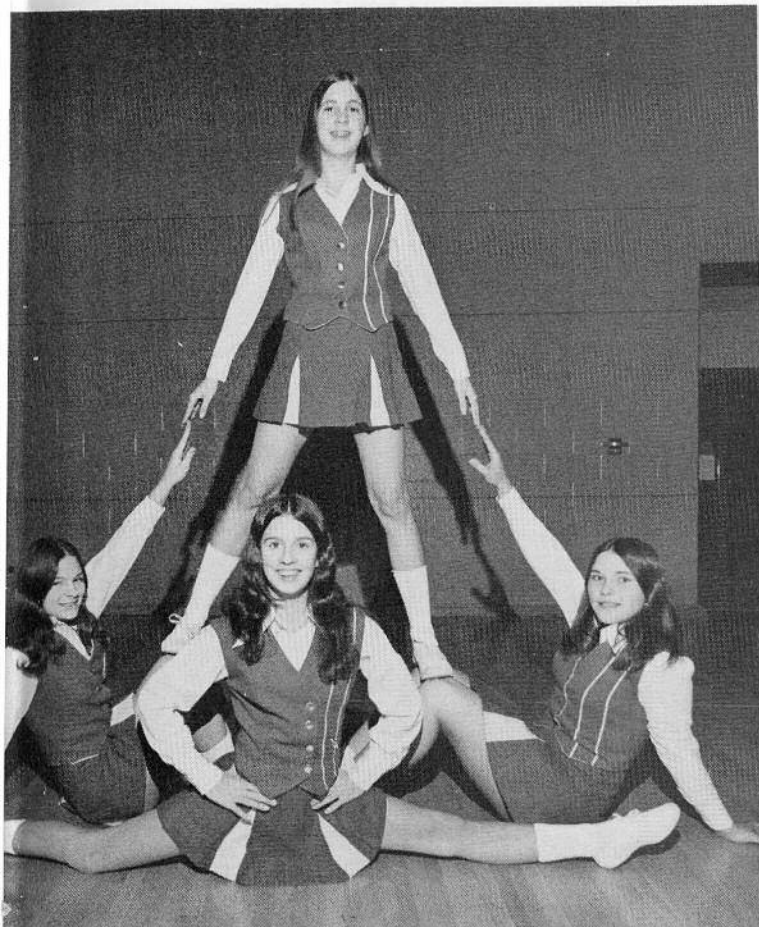

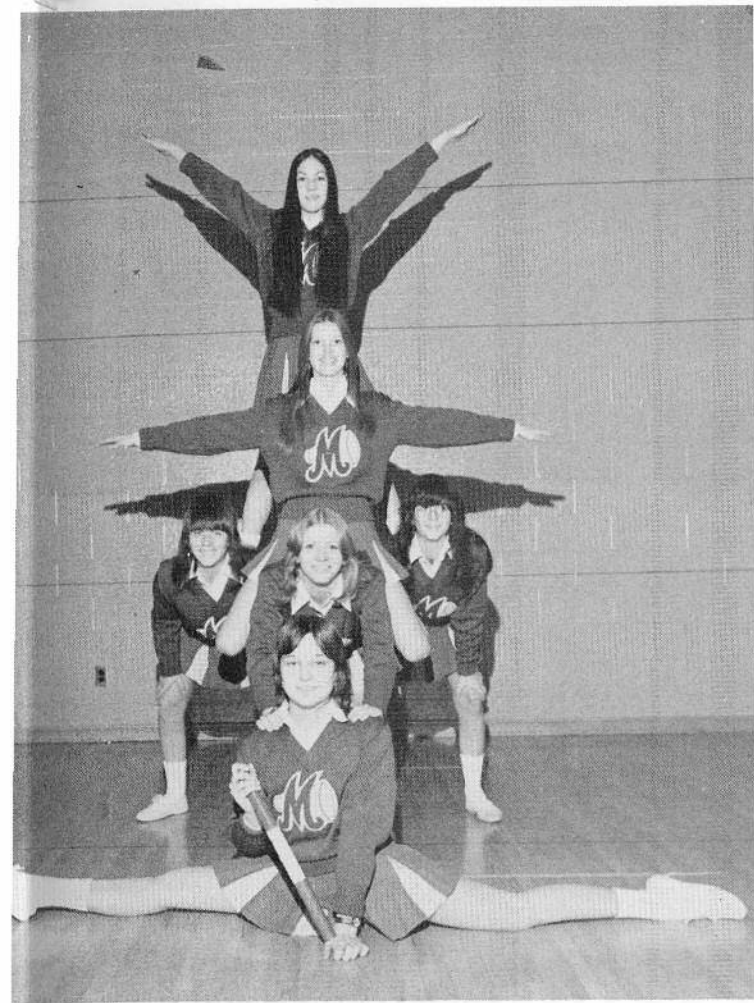

Lifting school spirit has been the major goal of Marshall's Cheerleaders and Patriettes. Patriettes take over half time to uphold the spirit of the crowd with dances.

Cheerleaders attended National Cheerleading Association camp this summer in Ashland, Ohio. They learned about keeping school spirit high all year around as they attended cheering workshops and competed in competition. All three squads of cheerleaders received a first place ribbon and were awarded a Spirit Stick which was given to the squads who showed the most interest and spirit for their school. The Spirit Stick is the first in Marshall's history.

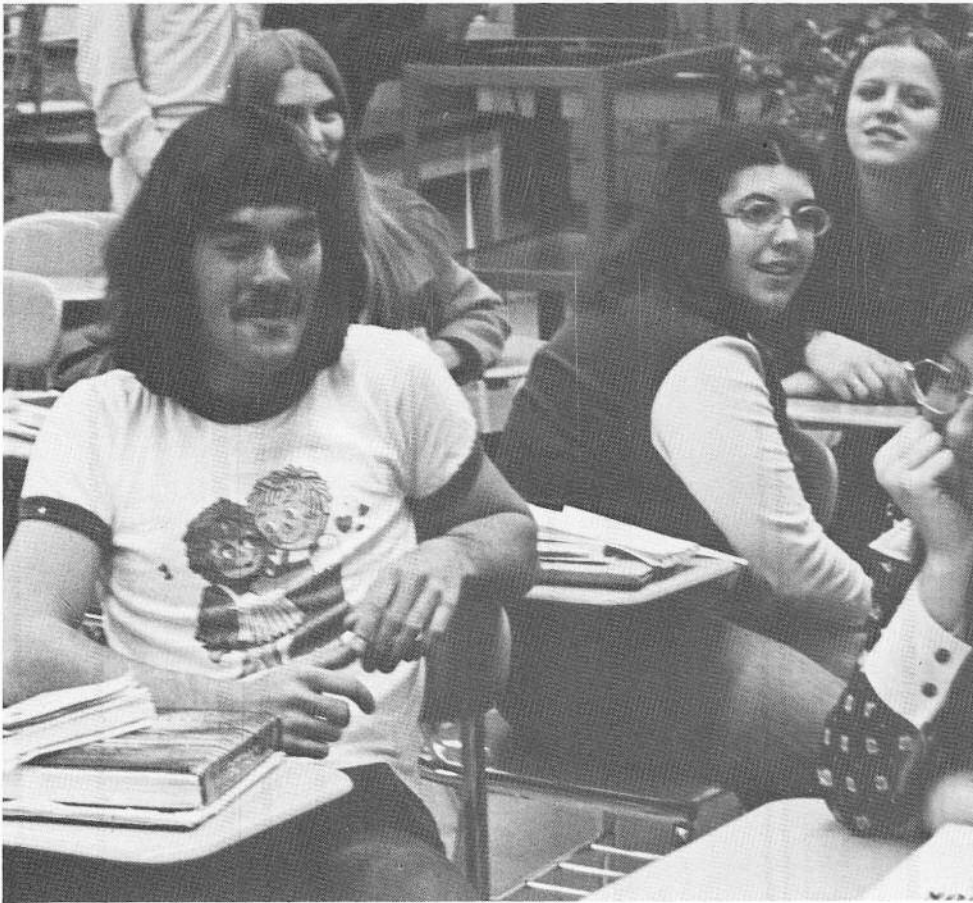

Patriettes practiced every night after school during Basketball season to coordinate a new dance for the next game.

PEOPLE

A person,
Not an idol,
Not a thing to bow down to.
A person,
Not something to trample on,
Or grind into the ground.
People are two people.
One, the person of the people that don't know him

(not a person)
(the person to bow down to, the idol)

Or the person of the people that know him,
(A person)
(the something not to trample or to grind)

If everyone could just come to
Be one;
A person,
1 together,
one.

—Jay Wilkerson

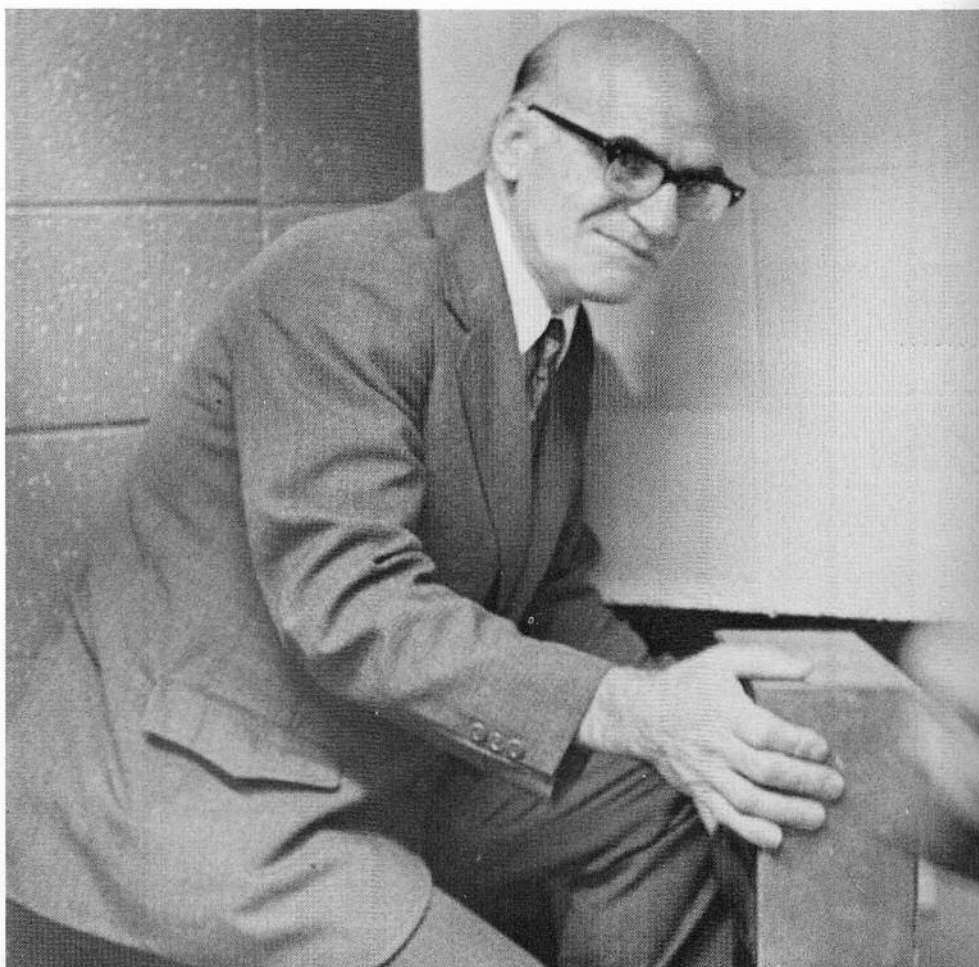

Goals—improvement of spirit, curriculum

John Marshall's primary goals were improvement of school spirit and loyalty and improvement of the quality of teaching. Aside from these school-wide goals, each department had its own goals, and every teacher had classroom goals. Teachers wrote behavioral objectives and course outlines, attended textbook evaluation meetings, and analyzed the Planning-Programing Budgeting System (PPBS).

Although JMHS began with more than 2,400 students, losses reduced the second semester total to about 2,200. There were 116 faculty members this year, 14 of whom were new. "Of these 116, 70 to 75 percent have a masters degree," stated Thomas M. Haynes, principal.

Seniors get it together

The first really united class, seniors of 1974 proved that blacks and whites can get it together and become one outstanding graduating class at John Marshall.

Rocky Clements, president, led the seniors through many activities and events. Assisting Rocky were Ray Kane, Vice-president; Terri Shepard, secretary; Vicki Johnson, treasurer; Debby Hartmann, alumni secretary; and Mr. Roger Schroeder, class advisor.

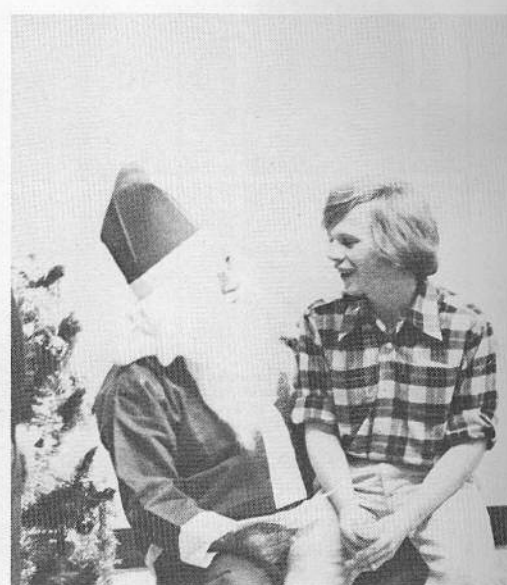

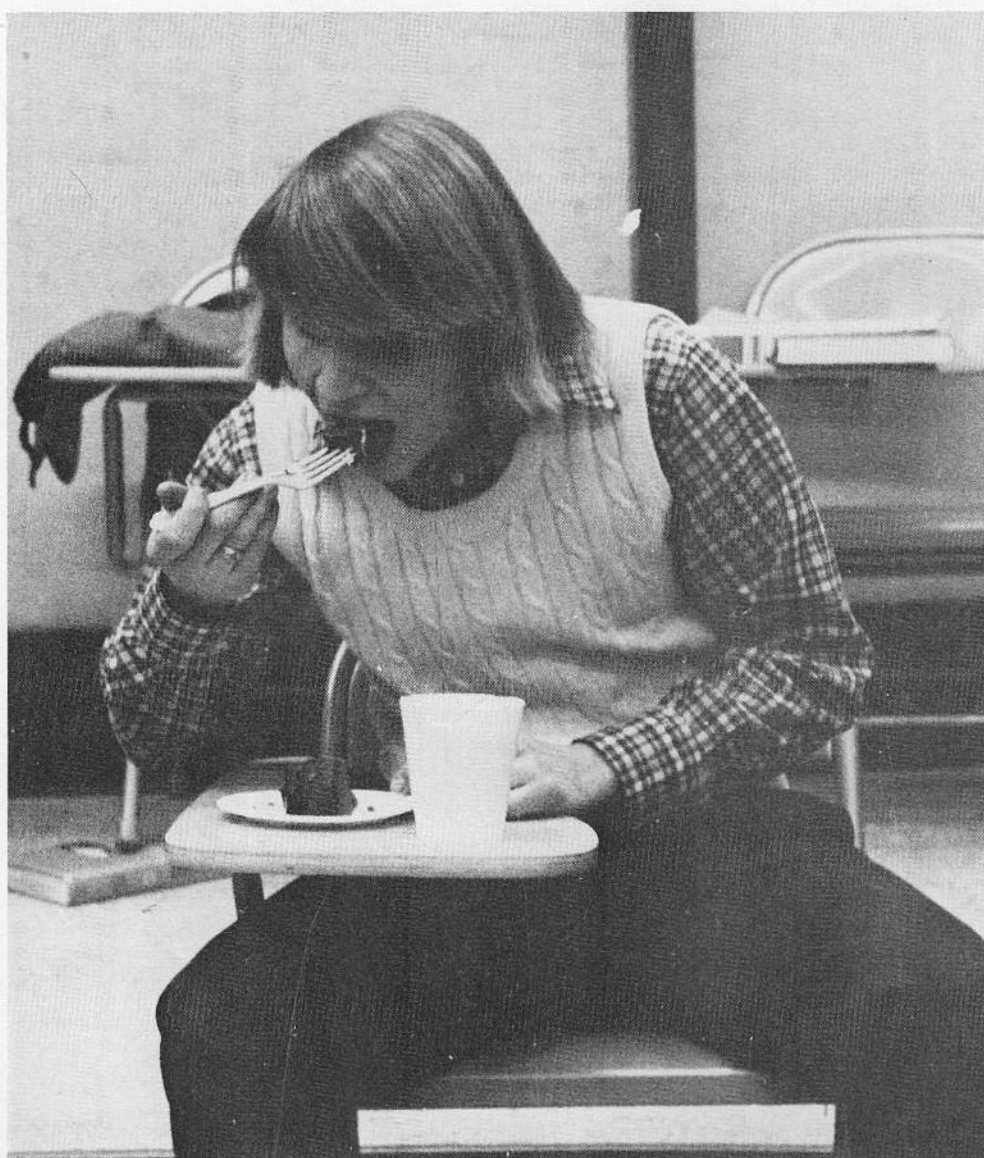

Christmas party, halloween and valentine messages, senior breakfast and the junior-senior prom were a few of the activities put together by the seniors.

Deal's Dollies plastered Georgie's Girls with a score of 14-0 during Powderpuff Football.

Mr. John Vardaman advised and counselled the class to help them reach their "castles in the sky."

Juniors active in sports, activities

The Junior Class participated in a variety of Varsity and Junior Varsity sports. Assisting John Marshall's wrestling team to its second place finish in the City Meet were Juniors Tom Kuhn, Jeff Shepard, and Paul Holden. Outstanding in baseball were Mark Rushton and Tim Bittner.

Juniors took advantage of numerous activities at Marshall including Student Council, Band, Patriettes, and Cheerleading. Students elected Richard Benton Vice-President of the Student Council. Patriette officers were Tina Wilkie, Lieutenant, and Tish Martindale, sergeant. Kim Fontana represented the Junior class by being a member of the Varsity Cheerleading squad.

Sophomores face one of the many requirements to pass Biology class—insect collecting. The first semester each student is required to collect and mount a certain number of insects. Shown here are two students out in the field working for a passing grade.

Leaf, insect, and bird high on soph list

The sophomores experienced a type of science they never had before, Biology. It widened their knowledge of insects, leaves, flowers, and birds.

Many sophomores took geometry this year, and finally found out what a "proof" was.

Sophomores were no longer required to take the traditional tenth grade grammar. Phase electives were opened to them this year so there were a wide variety of classes opened to them. Most sophomores were happy with the change.

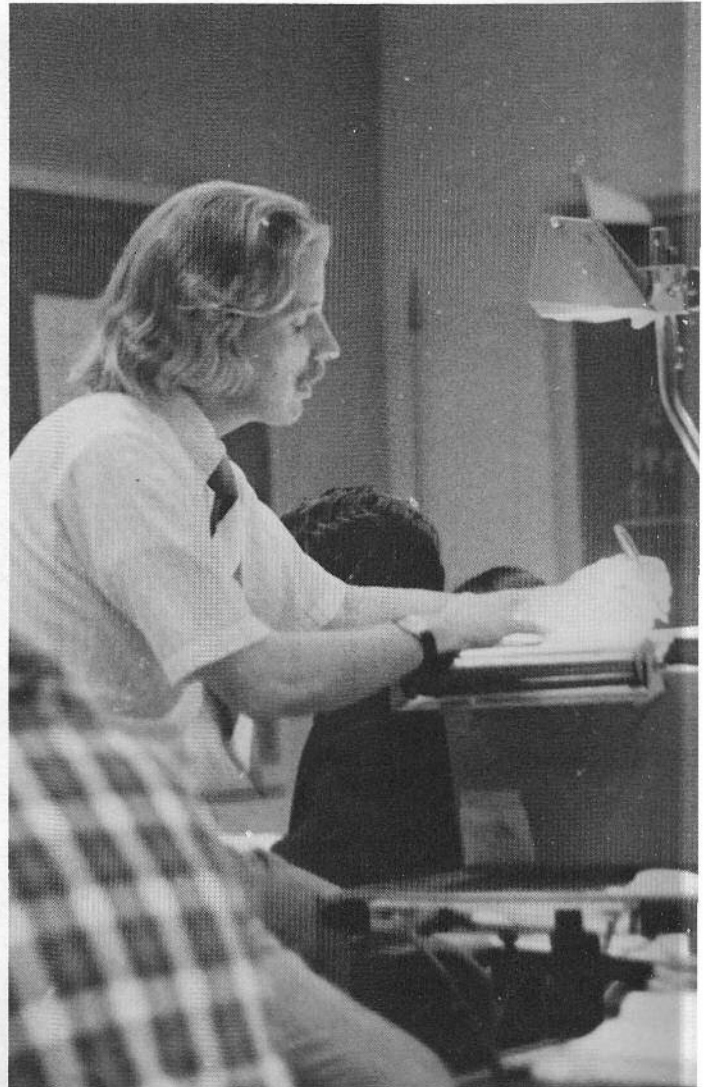

—Terry Rowe, Linda McCaffrey

Above. The Typing I class works to improve its speed and accuracy.

Members of the Naturalist Club for Homecoming decided to help raise spirit by forming their own band and booster club. Sophomore Dianna Christensen and senior Michelle Corliss show what the Patriots were going to do to the Greenfield Cougars. Even though we lost the game, the fans kept their spirits high during the game and half time activities.

Sophomores Denise England and Brenda Adams along with Junior Cathy Reynolds participate in one of the Many activities while attending the National Convention for Students of German. The convention was at Ball State University during the past summer.

After students have collected their insects, they start the job of mounting them in boxes. Each insect has a certain phylum and to receive credit the student must identify each one correctly. This is a Biology 1 requirement.

representatives of the music department and publications staff. Senior Mike Clawson played the guitar and harmonica.

Most students at Marshall take typing for at least one year. In the business department courses are offered such as two years of typing, shorthand and Data Processing. Brenda Taylor works at her own rate, a new system brought to the department.

Freshmen float wins second at Homecoming

With changes in school size and in friends, the freshmen managed to "get it together" to win second place in the Homecoming Float Contest.

Mat Maids, Cheerblock Clubs and athletics attracted the class of '77 who were counseled by Ms. Marjorie Christy and Mr. Donald Austin.

Those who could, saw Exorcist, The Way We Were, Jesus Christ Superstar, and Robin Hood. "Big Bad Leroy Brown," "Seasons in the Sun," "Jungle Boogie," and "Heartbeat, It's a love ea" were some of the 45's they bought. They read Lisa, Bright and Dark.

—Becky Swinford, Kim Deer

Senior Mary Musgrave demonstrates to a Physical Education 1 class how to perform different stunts on the parallel bars.

This year freshman took second place in the Homecoming Float contest with the theme "Cage the Cougars." Joe Salazar was Indy experienced the worst snowfall in 12 years and Marshall was definitely affected. With the closing of school for two days, the Marshall 'gang' took advantage of over a foot of snow.

Many football fans found footing slippery but still managed to play a few games in the wet snow. Some people went to work during the day for overtime since school was closed.

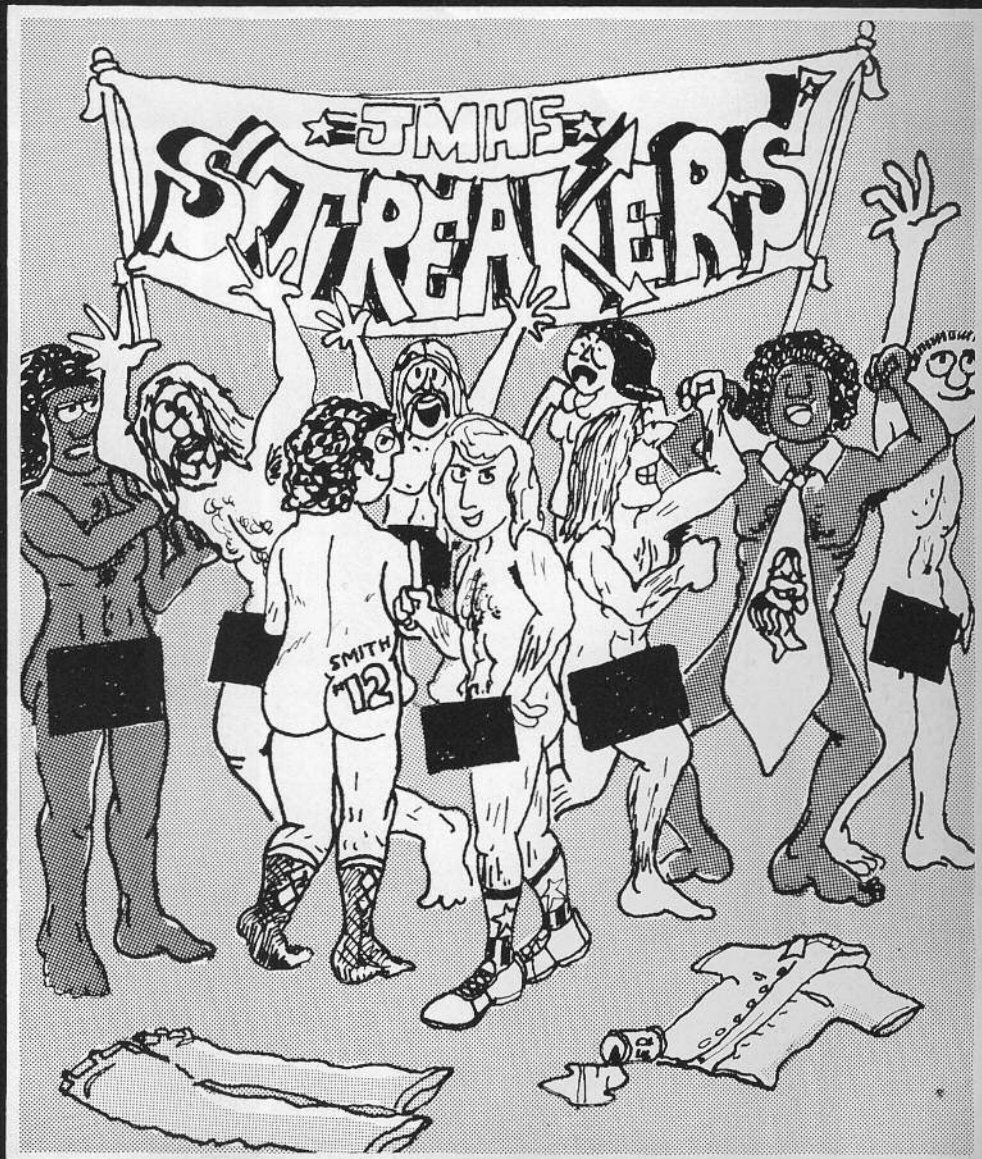

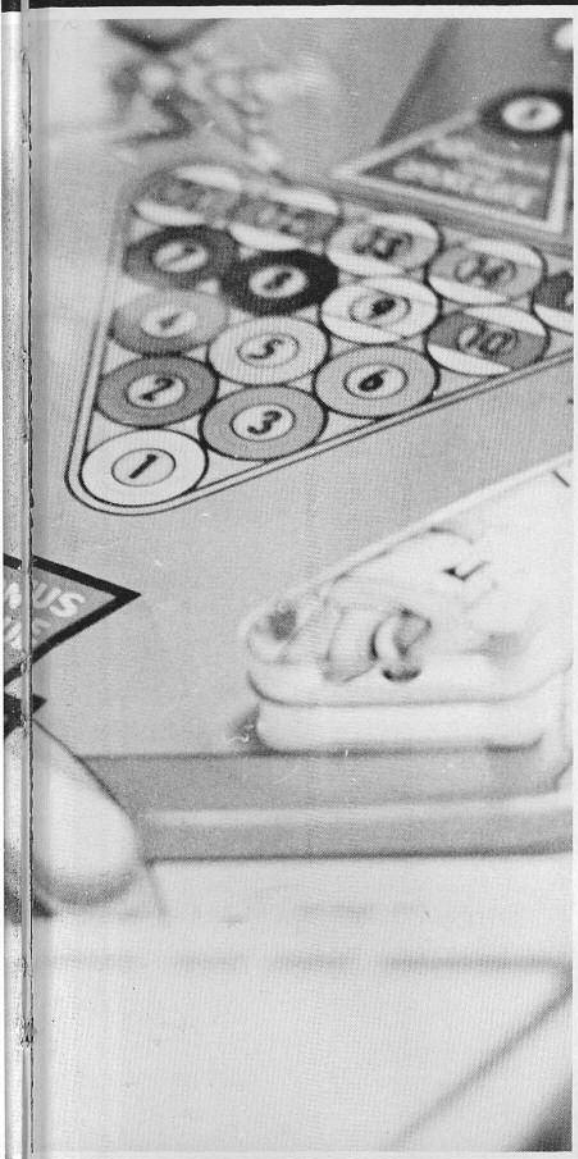

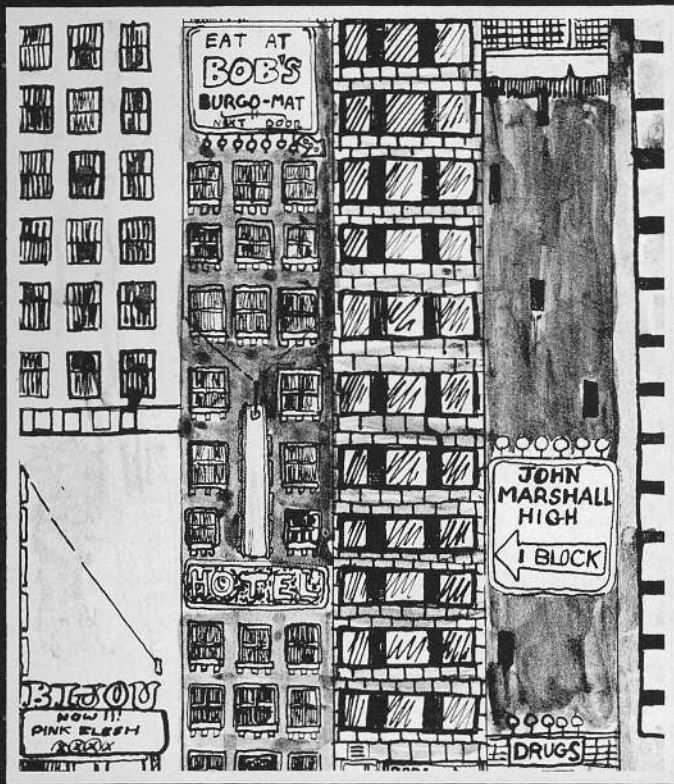

Finally the snow cleared and it seemed as if Spring was here to stay but before long, Seniors were flocking to the track. And school was finished.

Marshall was full of events, fads and fetishes. Hudnut spoke here while streakers struck as close to home as Ayr-way. This was a year of concerts from REO Speedwagon to Sly and Dylan. The Patio Parlor was swamped by Pinball Wizards while new apartments and shopping centers sprung up everywhere.

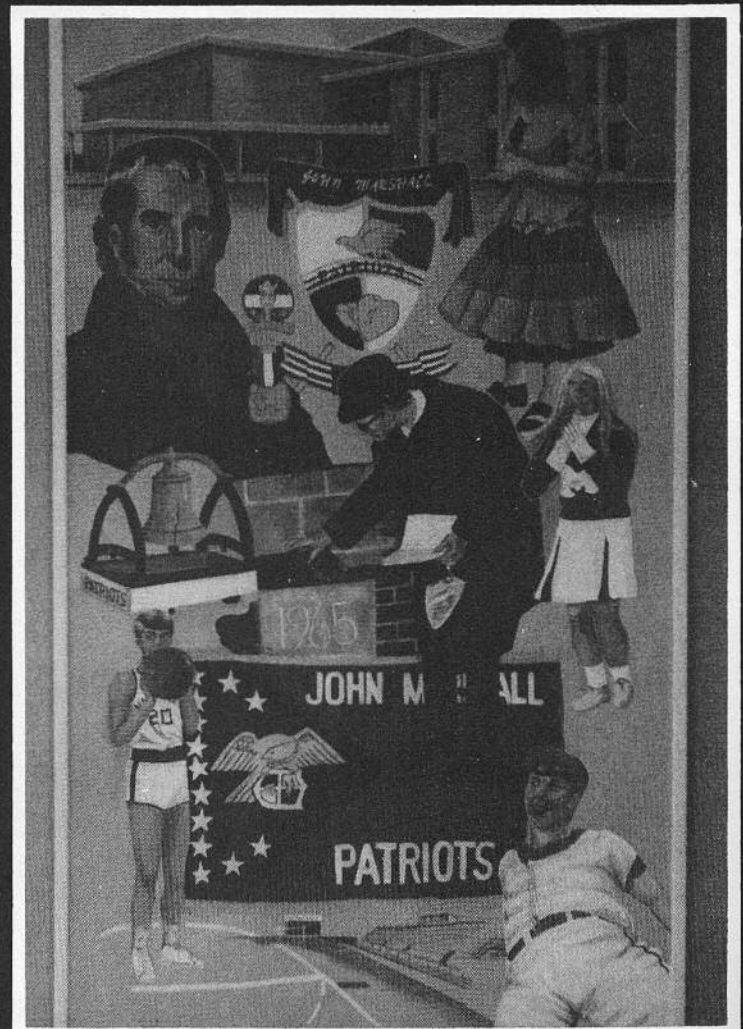

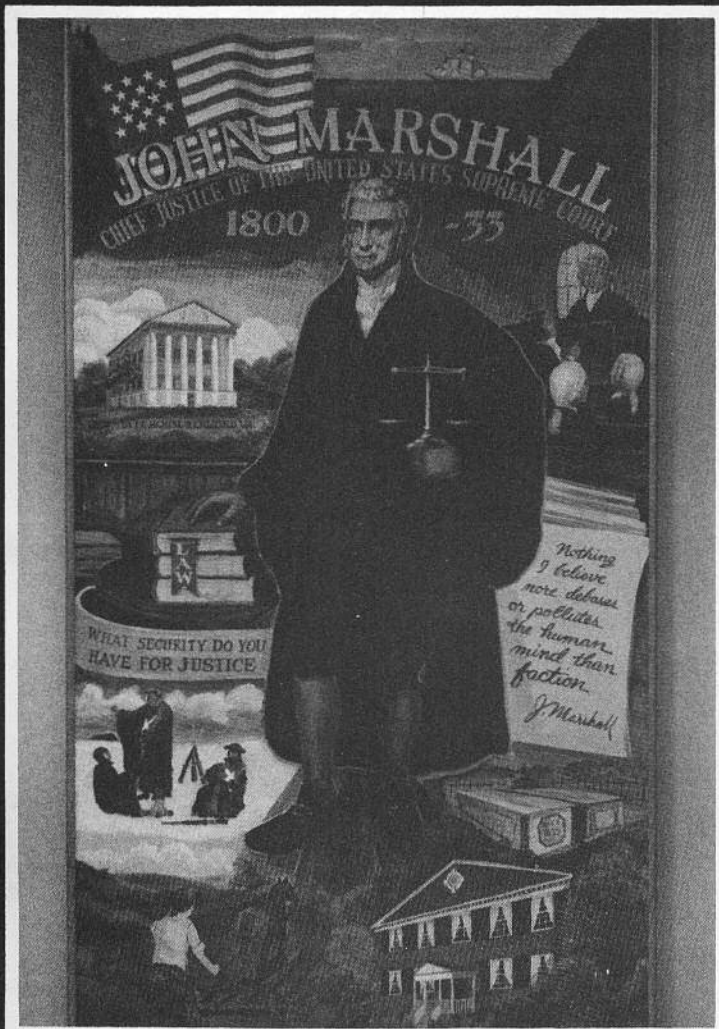

This year's yearbook has been graciously brought to you by the many devoted employees, drafted by our beloved leader, Ms. E. Through many hours of insanity in our own funny farm, she brought us through on the paths of righteousness. Despite repeated floodings, snowball fights and plots against anybody, the staff of THE MARHISCAN pulled through.

Special thanks are extended to Paula's Studio; Dick Kennard, Newsfoto Representative and William Tobias Studios for their professional assistance. Many thanks also to Jeff Buttrum and Rodney Pittman.

Finally we would like to thank you, the student body, because we look at people as much as people look at us.
